SIERRA MADRE EXCEED FIGURES EXPECTED IN NEW SERVICE REGISTRATION

Sierra Madre celebrated Registration Day with a whoop and hoorah yesterday. An auto parade, headed by the Sierra Madre band made the rounds of the town in the forenoon to remind the forgetful, and to arouse a spirit of enthusiasm in all. In the evening the band gave a special concert, which was one of the best ever heard at the local band stand.

As usual, Sierra Madre went over the top in the matter of registrations. There were a total of 153 recorded here, and it is known that a number had previously registered with the district board at Alhambra, which would swell the total somewhat.

The registrations will be nearly double the number of the first registration of men from 21 to 30 years. Taking the country as a whole, it was expected the number would be only about 50 per cent more than the first registration.

As a matter of fact, it is likely the large showing is due to the unusual proportion of adults in the total population of Sierra Madre.

Following are the complete lists compiled by the registrars in the three precincts, with the exception of fourteen Japanese men who were accidentally left out of the list furnished for the third precinct:

America's Answer to Autocracy

In terms of manpower, Americans gave their answer on Thursday to the challenge of kaiserism. Beginning on September 28 they will again register their defiance in terms of money and the sacrifice necessary to provide it.

A little more than a year ago there were some 3,000,000 United States bondholders; now there are somewhere between 20,000,000 and 25,000,000. Awakened patriotism has made the American people a saving people, a bond-buying people. The effect of the Liberty Loan on the national character, on our national life, on the individual citizen and his home life is of incalculable benefit. Not less incalculable is the effect on the destiny of the world as our ships plow the seas and our men and material in Europe beat back the Hun.

The fourth Liberty loan campaign will begin Saturday, September 28th, and close October 19th. No American doubts its success; no good American will fail to contribute to its success. The blood of our men fallen in Europe calls to us; our answer must be and will be worthy of them and our Country.

The Fourth Liberty Loan campaign will begin Saturday, world ever before attempted but every American knows this war duty will be met. Managers of the Oregon state campaign announce that no matter what size the loan Oregon will go over the top the first week of the campaign. Similar assurance comes from Washington. The patriotic response of Southern California in the Third Liberty Loan is positive assurance that Southern California will not be found lacking on this occasion and a similar assurance may reasonably be made by the campaign managers for Southern California.

The Liberty Loan campaign offers a duty ahat will be met as all war duties are met in this district. There will be no failure by the people to measure up to the courage and devotion of our men in Europe. Many of them have given up their lives; and every true American will refuse to hesitate one single minute to lend his money to back up these boys who are so valiantly offering the supreme sacrifice in his interests. Every loyal citizen must know that the more bonds we buy the fewer boys need die.

On September 28th double the subscription you made to the Third Liberty Loan. Let America's answer to plutocracy be heard clear around the world.

SUGAR STOCK TAKEN BY U. S. MARSHAL

Acting on information which was reported to the food administration, a deputy U. S. marshal took in charge on Tuesday about 900 pounds of sugar which was in possession of E. Waldo Ward of East Highland Avenue. The supposition was the sugar might be unlawfully hoarded. Mr. Ward explains it was what he had left at the close of his marmalade manufacturing season and the surplus was due to his inability to get the quantity of oranges he had expected to put up. Unfortunately, the first newspaper reports indicated that the sugar had been taken from the cellar of Mr. Ward's residence without indicating that he was conducting a manufacturing business.

The report would lead the reader to the conclusion that it was a plain case of hoarding for private use. Mr. Ward has placed his books in the hands of the authorities to determine if he is entitled to the sugar for his business.

LOG OF A SOLDIER'S TRIP TO ATLANTIC

Charles Downs Writes Impressions of States Seen on Eastward Trip

Charles S. Downs, son of Mrs. M. O. Downs of Victoria Lane, is very likely on the way across the Atlantic by this time, having been for some time at Camp Upton on Long Island for some time. He is a member of Co. D, 55th Ammunition Train of the Coast Artillery Corps. He writes interestingly of his trip across the continent, as follows:

Here I am at Camp Upton after chasing nearly all over the continent getting here. This is a large camp, with between 50,000 and 75,000 men here, all shapes and sizes. There are many negroes, also a new lot of draft men still in their "civies"—civilian clothes.

On our way east we travelled first through the south and then the north. We were within a mile of Mexico once or twice and later within a mile of the Canadian border.

I am not supposed to tell the line of our trip but can tell at least some of the states we went through. Some of the boys said the first three states we passed through after leaving California were "the land that God forgot" and the name seemed to fit. It is nothing but waste land—not all sand and cactus, however—much of it would be good agricultural land if water could be found for it. I can't agree with the Texas boys who brag about their state. In the eastern part it is not so bad. They have two main products there, cotton and negroes, mostly the latter. At all times we saw little black fellows out along the fields waving their arms frantically at us, and the big mammals would stretch up their arms and then bow away over to us.

Through Arkansas we saw some of the most run down old places I guess in the whole world. People were living in them too, mostly negroes, but they seemed to be happy and not worrying about anything. There were a great many saw mills in this part, too.

We travelled a long way right beside the Mississippi river, by some of the best farming land I have ever seen. The corn there and in Ohio would make California corn look sick.

I never saw people so full of pep about soldiers as in Ohio. They would come running for as far as we could see them when our train would stop. They would come up alongside the car and shake hands with us, especially the young ladies. Anyway they were the ones we all noticed. Some of those country girls can make some of the high toned city girls look rather small as far as real beauty and cheeriness goes. But the California girls can make some of the high when we settle this fuss with Kaiser Bill and salt him down I am coming back to California.

In Pennsylvania we saw some fine scenery. There is where we passed through the few tunnels we encountered on the trip. We passed many coal mines and the workers would pack windows and doors of the big buildings and wave as far as they could see us, and let loose every whistle about them.

The whole east is more enthusiastic toward soldiers than the west, so westerners should wake up and cheer the troop trains, for it makes the boys feel good.

After leaving Texas we had coal burning engines instead of

STRICT CASH IN ADVANCE RULE ORDERED

Cash in advance for subscriptions will be the rule for weekly newspapers whether the publishers and subscribers like it or not as a result of a new ruling by the pulp and paper section of the War Industries Board.

This is only one of a number of rules by which the Board expects to reduce the consumption of news print paper in the trade as a whole by at least 15 per cent by November 1, 1918. The new rules which publishers are asked to adopt include the following:

No publisher may continue subscriptions over three months after date of expiration, unless subscriptions are renewed and paid for.

Weight of paper stock to be used must not be heavier than 30 1/2 x 44—50, which is the grade used by the News.

No publisher may give free copies of his paper except for actual services rendered, except to camp libraries and huts or canteens of organizations, or to public libraries which will bind for permanent keeping.

No unsold copies to be accepted from newsdealers.

No extra copies to be printed for stimulating advertising or subscriptions.

No free copies in exchange for other publications except within the county, or within a radius of forty miles from point of publication.

No publication shall be sold at an exceedingly low or nominal subscription price.

No publisher shall sell his publication to anyone below the published subscription price.

No voting or other contests to procure subscriptions.

No holiday, industrial or other special editions.

No newspapers to be established during the war unless it can be shown that such a newspaper is a necessity.

A sworn statement will be required from each publisher on Nov. 1 as to how many of these rules have been put into effect by him and what results in the matter of reducing paper consumption have been obtained.

oil burners as they have in the west. I thought of saving all the coal I got in my eyes and taking it up to the engine and in that way doing my bit to help win the war. But I feared I might be arrested for hoarding fuel, so I just let the chunks go, all except one that seems to like staying in my eye.

Our train brought us to Jersey City, and we were brought by ferry boat around to Long Island, which gave us a fine view of the famous New York skyline, the Statue of Liberty, the Brooklyn Bridge and other things of interest.

Practically all the soldiers in camp here are draft men and I think ours is about the only volunteer organization here. The boys are equipped with the little "over-seas" cap and wrapped leggings instead of canvas.

There is a Liberty Theater, as well as numerous Y. M. C. A., and Knights of Columbus buildings here, all doing a great deal for the boys.

In the harbor of New York we saw the largest ship in the world, formerly the Vaterland, and now all camouflaged and doing duty as a U. S. transport.

New Wheat Rules for Households

Food Administration Tells What Each Housewife is Asked to do Under New Program

Full details of the new wheat saving program for the housewives of the state are announced by Acting Federal Food Commissioner Preston McKinney, following further advice from Washington.

The essential changes from the former program are:

1—Breads for each day and each meal henceforth to be partly wheatless, with the elimination of the two former wheatless days and the wheatless evening meals.

2—Cancellation of the list of wheat substitutes. Rice and breakfast foods are no longer substitutes.

3—Abolishment of the rule which restricted flour purchases in towns and cities to one-eighth of a barrel at each purchase and in rural districts to one-quarter of a barrel.

4—Abolishment of the 50-50 rule, which provides for the purchase of an equal quantity of substitute flours with wheat flours.

The new program calls for the use of Victory Mixed Flour which will contain the 20 per cent substitutes, and which will be put out by the mills. This flour will shortly be on the market.

In lieu of using this flour the housewife may purchase wheat flour at the rate of four pounds to one pound of substitutes, which includes barley, corn, oat, potato, rice and other cereal flours. Where rye flour is used as a substitute two pounds must be purchased with each three pounds of the wheat product.

In brief, the nation is asked to use bread, rolls and other breadstuffs which shall contain at least twenty per cent of substitutes in accordance with the bread which the Allied nations will use.

The Food Administration made it clear that there should be no let-up in saving under the new wheat program, but that the restrictions have been modified in a measure commensurate with the improved conditions abroad.

No one is asked to continue on a strictly wheatless diet, but those who do so will be contributing that much toward winning the war, McKinney said.

NO WAR SOLICITING WITHOUT A PERMIT

County Council of Defence Will Have Supervision of All Money Raising

Following the action of the State Council of Defence, the County Council of Defence announces that no solicitation of funds will be permitted unless a permit is granted by the War Donations Board of the State Council of Defence.

Chairman Pridham of the County Council announces that all applications for permits in this county must be made through the Los Angeles division and should be directed to Chairman R. W. Pridham at his temporary location at the California Liberty Fair Office in Central Park, Los Angeles.

To prevent confusion all officials connected with any war fund or war aid work should note particularly this announcement, and should make requests as early as possible so that the matter may be determined by the State Council in plenty of time for the conducting of any enterprise that may be termed worthy under the war organization of the state.

MICHIGAN PEOPLE PICNIC NEXT WEEK

All Southern California folk who ever lived in Michigan are called to meet for an all-day picnic in Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, Saturday, September 21. Come as early as possible and spend the day with friends from the old home. County registers will be used to help locate them.

From Sierra Madre, Sycamore Grove is reached by changing at Echandia Junction to South Pasadena cars which will take you to the park.

Now New Wheat Rules Affect Grocers

Change Made in Substitutes and Quantity that Must be Sold With Wheat Flour

Grocers are now permitted to sell four pounds of wheat flour with one pound of substitute flours under the rules regulating the new wheat saving program, it is announced by Acting Food Commissioner Preston McKinney. Larger quantities may be sold in the same ratio.

The Food Administration's official bulletin of Sept. 3 contained full instructions to grocers and bakers.

Rice in the grain and breakfast foods, one of which is oatmeal, are no longer wheat flour substitutes, although rice flour is. Barley flour, corn flour and corn meal, rye flour and oat flour and other cereal flours also are on the official substitute list. Grocers are now required to carry at least three substitutes—barley flour, corn meal and corn flour.

The new Victory Mixed Flour, which contains the required twenty per cent substitutes and which will be put out from the mills, will be on the market soon. When this Victory Mixed Flour is purchased by the housewife no other substitutes need be purchased at that time.

While there is no definite limit placed on the quantity of wheat flour the grocer is permitted to sell, either in the city or rural districts, hoarding will not be tolerated, McKinney said. No more than a reasonable amount of either the Victory Mixed Flour, or the pure wheat flour with the required substitutes should be bought at one time.

Although the wheat saving rules have been slightly relaxed due to improved conditions among the Allies, the patriotic public should observe the new restrictions rigidly, the Food Administration urges. Unless the new program is given the same measure of loyal support that obtained previously, wheat saving henceforth will not be sufficiently effective to meet the requirements of our soldiers and the troops and civilian populations of the Allies.

In a nutshell, the new program calls for only a twenty per cent substitution in breadstuffs, and no patriotic citizen will use straight wheat in bread or rolls and leave the substitutes on the shelf, McKinney said.

BRITISH WOUNDED PASS THROUGH FRENCH LINE

During the fiercest of the fighting in a battle in France British wounded on the way to hospitals were carried past the lines of the French. As he passes the trenches filled with machine gunners in action this wounded Tommy, interested, has raised his head to watch his French cousins help hold the Hun. Away at the rear in the woods cavalry horses can be seen corralled while their riders wait the command to advance.

TO REACH SIERRA MADRE

By Trolley—Take Sierra Madre cars leaving hourly at Pacific Electric station, Sixth and Main, Los Angeles. The scenic ride is the most beautiful on the P. E. system. From Pasadena, take Lamanda Park car and change at Lamanda Park Junction.

By Auto—From Los Angeles, take North Broadway or Mission Road to Huntington Drive, follow as far as Lamanda Park Junction, east on Colorado Street to Santa Anita, north to Foothill Boulevard, east to Sierra Madre Avenue, north to Central Avenue, Sierra Madre.

IDEAL HOME COMMUNITY

Sierra Madre's peculiar charm has been felt and praised by nearly everyone who ever visited or lived here. Many factors combine to make the charm potent—the sense of exaltation in life on the heights; the inspiring views; the invigorating air, kept pure by currents moving continually up and down the foothill slope; the feeling of intimacy with the nearby mountains; the ease with which a love for outdoor life and recreation is gratified; the great variety of available homesites; the conveniences of the city with all the joys of life in the country.

It is as a home community that Sierra Madre claims pre-eminence. Here you can have a small house and lot, a larger place with fruit and a garden plot, or acres with an orchard. Everything grows well here and Sierra Madre has suffered less from frost than any other community in the citrus region.

No community has a higher type of citizenship. Socially and morally Sierra Madre ranks high. There is a cosmopolitan population recruited from all over the world, a fact of keen interest to many people. "Over the top" a community habit in patriotic efforts. CRUELTY AND LUST WEAPONS OF HUNS

Conquered Peoples Shamefully Treated for Advantage of the German State.

Prussian Officers Callously Tell How Starvation and Abuse Are Made to Serve Their Purpose—Captives Women Made Slaves.

"This I have seen. I could not believe it unless I had seen it through and through. For several weeks I lived with it; I went all about it and back of it; inside and out of it was shown to me—until finally I came to realize that the incredible was true. It is monstrous, it is unthinkable, but it exists. It is the Prussian system.—F. C. Walcott.

No more graphic description of the ravages of the German soldiery upon the civilian population of invaded countries has been given than is contained in the brief and simple statements of F. C. Walcott, now connected with the United States food administration, who was assistant to Mr. Hoover while America was feeding Belgium, Poland and northern France. In one of these statements Mr. Walcott says:

Even now I find it hard to describe in comprehensible terms the mind of official Germany, which dominates and shapes all German thought and action. Yet it is as hard, as clear-cut, as real as any material thing. I saw it in Poland, I saw the same thing in Belgium, I heard of it in Serbia and Roumania. For weeks it was always before me, always the same. Officers talked freely, frankly, directly. All the staff officers have the same view.

Let me try to tell it, as General von Kries told me, in Poland, in the midst of a dying nation. Germany is destined to rule the world, or at least a great part of it. The German people are so much human material for building the German state, other people do not count. All is for the glory and might of the German state. The lives of human beings are to be conserved only if it makes for the state's advancement, their lives are to be sacrificed if it is to the state's advantage. The state is all, the people are nothing.

Conquered people signify little in the German account. Life, liberty, happiness, human sentiment, family ties, grace and generous impulse, these have no place beside the one concern, the greatness of the German state. Starvation must excite no pity; sympathy must not be allowed, if it hampers the main design of promoting Germany's ends.

"Starvation is here," said General von Kries. "Candidly, we would like to see it relieved; we fear our soldiers may be unfavorably affected by the things that they see. But since it is here, starvation must serve our purpose. So we set it to work for Germany. By starvation we can accomplish in two or three years in East Poland more than we have in West Poland, which is East Prussia, in the last hundred years. With that in view, we propose to turn this force to our advantage.

"This country is meant for Germany," continued the keeper of starving Poland. "It is a rich alluvial country which Germany has needed for some generations. We propose to remove the able-bodied working Poles from this country. It leaves it open for the inflow of German working people as fast as we can spare them. They will occupy it and work it."

Then with a cunning smile, "Can't you see how it works out? By and by we shall give back freedom to Poland. When that happens Poland will appear automatically as a German province."

In Belgium, General von Bissing told me exactly the same thing. "If the relief of Belgium breaks down we can force the industrial population into Germany through starvation and colonize other Belgians in Mesopotamia where we have planned large irrigation works; Germans will then overrun Belgium. Then when the war is over and freedom is given back to Belgium, it will be a German Belgium that is restored. Belgium will be a German province and we have Antwerp—which is what we are after."

That is not all. Removing the men, that the land may be vacant for German occupation, that German stock may replace Belgians, Poles, Serbians, Armenians, and now Roumanians, Germany does more. Women left captive are enslaved. Germany makes all manner of lust its instrumentality.

The other day a friend of mine told me of a man just returned from northern France. "I cannot tell you the details," he said, "man to man, I don't want to repeat what I heard." Some of the things he did tell—shocking mutilation and moral murder. He told of women, by the score, in occupied territory of northern France, prisoned in underground dungeons, tethered for the use of their bodies by officers and men.

If this is not a piece of the Prussian system, it is the logical product of disregard of the rights of others.

Germany has limited the amount that prisoners may spend to $15 a week for officers and $12.50 for privates.

TEMPERATURE AND TEMPER.

Here is a good old story that somebody has taken the trouble to dress up in khaki—or hospital blue:

Sister Anne was going the round of the ward in the big hospital for wounded soldiers, examining the medical charts over each bed and taking temperatures.

Reaching the side of one hero, in whose mouth she had left the thermometer a minute ago, she was horrified to find, withdrawing it, that it registered 120, although only an hour ago the patient was normal. Swiftly she summoned the house doctor, but he, on arriving, was seriously perturbed, as there was nothing in the patient's condition to account for the sudden rise.

"Look here," he said to the soldier, "have you dropped this thermometer or been fooling with it?"

"No, sir. Only been stirring my tea with it!"

Upset Her Balance.

Like a rose petal on a zephyr she blew into the hostler's.

"I'm looking for something nice for a young man," she said shyly to the gallant behind the counter.

"Why don't you look in the mirror?" asked the hostler, and she was so flustered that he managed to get an order for four dozen raincoats that she didn't want, before she knew what she was doing.

Fewer Sea Birds.

That the monarch of the air, the sea eagle, has disappeared from California, as well as from the Shetlands and Shetlands, is a well-authenticated fact. The sea eagle is not very uncommon in the West Highlands, and it builds its nest on various hills abutting on the cliff coast. The sites of the nests are on the edge of some large and well-stocked sheep farms. The birds have always been accused of killing lambs as well as hares and wild game, but the charge would be difficult to substantiate.

REGISTER AT SCHOOL
FRIDAY, SEPT. 20Sierra Madre Pupils Asked To Report Early for Their Assignments

While the Sierra Madre school will open on Monday, Sept. 23, it is requested by the principal, Keith M. Walker, that all pupils appear for registration on Friday, Sept. 20. It is hoped there will be a full attendance from the first day.

All children who will be six years old on or before March 15, 1919, will enter the first grade. All who will be five on or before March 15, 1919, may enter the kindergarten. If, after all of of this age have been admitted, the number has not reached 25, children who were four on or before June 1, last, may be admitted during the first month only.

Kindergarten children are not asked to come until Monday. If those who live too far away to walk will phone their names and addresses, they will be called for and taken home as usual. The driver will be announced later.

Faculty Changes

Principal Walker is looking forward to a successful year with the reorganized teaching staff, which was reported in the News recently. It is of course needless to refer to the highly satisfactory work of Miss Carson, Miss Appleby or Mrs. Walker, except that a change of program will give them increased opportunity for usefulness.

Miss Gertrude Hadley who takes the first grade is a graduate of the state normal at San Diego from which she comes highly recommended. She has had two years of highly successful teaching experience in San Bernardino County and was the principal of her school last year.

Miss Elizabeth Prikril of Los Angeles and Miss Emely Powell of Hollywood graduated from the Los Angeles normal school last spring. And while they have not had actual teaching experience in California, both were recommended as having the highest records in their class in both practice teaching and class work. Miss Prikril is also prepared to do a good deal of work in music.

EVERYONE EAGER TO HEAR ABOUT THE WARSrgt. Steinberger's First-Hand
Stories From the Front
Are Strong Magnet

The universally keen interest in the war has never been more strongly proven in Sierra Madre than during the past week, in the eagerness of young and old to hear the reports from the scene of action brought by Srgt. Harvey Steinberger. In public and private, he has been kept almost as busy as he would be at the front, by eager listeners and questioners.

Last Friday night's meeting at the band stand was a tribute worthy of a returning victor and typified the warmth of affection felt by the community for him individually and also the heart interest of the community in all the boys of whom Srgt. Eteinberger stood for the moment as representative.

On Monday night Sierra Madre Lodge No. 408, F. & A. M., of Srgt. Steinberger is a member and past officer, held a smoker in his honor, which was largely attended by members as well as by Masons connected with the Balloon School. The affair was arranged by a committee consisting of W. A. Evans, J. D. Mackerras and Rev. F. W. Godman, and was one of the most delightful social events in the history of the lodge.

On both occasions Srgt. Steinberger reviewed his experiences from the sailing to his return on the Leviathan. He answered a large number of questions and acquitted himself with great credit for the informing character of his narrative.

In general, Srgt. Steinberger conveyed the impression that the work of the Americans in France has been decidedly alright, both in battle and behind the lines.

Srgt. Steinberger will return east next Sunday to assume his duties as an instructor at one of the Virginia camps.

garded as an especially valuable acquisition to the school. She is already known to some of the Red Cross workers through her assistance in the food conservation work in the domestic science building this summer. She has had six years previous experience in eastern schools and during the past year has been taking special work in the Los Angeles normal school. She passed third highest of all the teachers taking Los Angeles city examinations.

J. G. WILLIAMS LOSES
HAND IN ACCIDENTDistressing Occurrence at the City's Pumping
Plant

J. G. Williams of West Highland Ave., was the victim of an extremely painful and costly accident at the city pumping plant early Wednesday morning. He was alone in charge of the plant and in some manner his right hand became caught in the gears and was so badly crushed that amputation became necessary.

After the accident Mr. Williams was able to get to the telephone and inform the operator and she in turn notified the night watchman, Mr. Kellogg. Milton Steinberger and Rudolph Hartman assisted in providing first aid. Dr. L. L. Krebs was called and did what was possible before removing the sufferer to Pasadena hospital.

The wound would be a severe one for anybody and an extreme shock to the system of a man of seventy. Accident insurance is provided by the city's blanket policy for all employees, with the State Compensation fund.

At last reports Mr. Williams was progressing as well as could be expected after the painful ordeal.

FIGHTING WITH FOOD

By DR. RAY LYMAN WILBUR

President of Stanford University.

Redemption By Blood.

What have you and I done in our democracy? Did you ever stop to think about it? We put up service flags. They mean that you and I have picked out the best young men, the best we have. We have picked them out and sent them over there and said, "You go out and fight for us so that we can have liberty, freedom, and justice; we will go on as before but you fight and die while we stay home." That is what we have done, that is what we have said.

We have been talking in terms of dollars, not in terms of men. Our legislation has been in terms of dollars. Our talk of war has been a dollar talk. We are still in the dollar stage. Don't you know that dollars—money—is no longer the medium of exchange the world is using? The world is using today men and boys, the best it has, to buy the things we want—liberty, freedom, justice.

The precious blood of boys and men is the thing we are spending. I tell you if any American comes out of this war with one dollar more than when he went in, God forgive him. The American people never will.

The Submarine War.

Germany started submarine warfare to keep us from giving help to the Allies. That submarine war has gone on now for more than a year. We have watched it. We have read anxiously week by week the number of ships that have gone down. But the average American has failed to see civilization bleeding to death as each great ship went to the bottom. He has not seen the thread of ships that reaches from our Atlantic ports to England and France and Italy getting continually thinner and thinner. He has not realized that the life of this Nation hangs on that thread of ships. That is the only thing that connects us with the western front, and the western front is today the only thing on earth that counts. Everything here is insignificant except as it backs up that western front.

The United States is not in a position to fully meet the onslaught of the German military machine today. We have watched that machine as spectators, not realizing that we were in the center of the stage and the world was saying, "What will America do? Will America understand? Will she send the men? Will she send the food? Will she build the ships? Will she fight the submarine?"

Deep-Sea Pirates.

We went to war in a leisurely way not realizing what was going on. There has not been an hour in the last 17 months when there have not been men in open boats at sea trying to get to land; men in those boats dead of exposure, of thirst, of starvation, of shell wounds and machine-gun bullets, men who have gotten down from merchant vessels into little boats 500 to 1,000 miles from shore. For the submarine is a deep-sea pirate now and strikes its prey far from shore. Month after month that has been going on.

We were slow to understand because we thought modern Germany was like the Germans we have as our fellow citizens. We did not know that when Germany crushed the revolution in 1848, when the Hohenzollerns drove from Germany that portion of the liberty-loving people who are found in every land, that she thereby sowed the seeds of this war. She gave us the best blood she had, and it has been a great contribution to us. Those who stayed in Germany are a perverted and polluted generation that has willed this war. Theirs is the belief in the divine right of kings, the belief in conquest which regards not justice nor pity nor mercy.

The Spirit That Wins.

There is only one short way to win this war—unless Germany wins—and that is to get an absolute solution of the submarine. Otherwise we have got to keep the submarine under water and keep the ships on the water while we gradually build up an offensive against Germany.

But you can fight the submarine, because right now the thing that they are trying to do is to keep us from sending the food that England and France and Belgium and Italy need

GOES LONG WAY TO JUDGE DOG SHOW

Chris Shuttleworth returned recently from Vancouver, B. C., where he acted as judge of the great dog show held there in August. It was one of the greatest shows of the kind ever held in Western Canada, and Mr. Shuttleworth acted as judge of all breeds.

As superintendent of Mrs. Baldwin's Anoaia Kennels and as editor of the Kennel Advocate, Mr. Shuttleworth is widely known as one of the best informed dog men and judges in the west. Under the rules in force in the United States no one engaged as a professional dog handler is permitted to act as a judge. In Canada no such rule applies, and the fact that the Canadian kennel clubs send for Mr. Shuttleworth to come so far to officiate is splendid testimony to his fairness and expert qualifications.

The Kennel Advocate, which is printed for Mr. Shuttleworth each month by the News Printer, is mailed as a Sierra Madre publication and carries the name of Sierra Madre to all parts of the world.

His Headquarters.

A small feather pillow which nestled in a glass case in the historical museum created especial interest among the visitors. "I don't see anything unusual about that pillow," remarked a girl, turning to the guide. "It's a very valuable pillow," replied the guide. "That is Washington's original headquarters."—The Girls' Circle.
